

Nixon's Policy, Mine the Same, President Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today that never in seven years has there been any major variance between him and Vice President Richard M. Nixon on national policies.

Eisenhower was asked at his news conference to discuss reports that Nixon, the prospective Republican presidential nominee differs with him on some matters.

A reporter specifically cited Nixon's call recently for a month-to-month examination of national defense.

The President replied that all of us are human, and he doesn't believe any two individuals find the same methods or use the same procedures.

He said Nixon has been close to him for seven years and never has been excluded for any important group making policy decision or drafting plans for action.

Never once has Nixon been at major variance with him, Eisenhower emphasized.

The President went on to say that Nixon uses methods different from his own and doesn't work with people in the same way.

In an incidental comment Eisenhower said he has his own methods and thinks they are pretty good.

Turning to the question about Nixon's call for monthly reassessment of the nation's defense posture, Eisenhower said that, far from waiting each month to weigh the defense situation, the National Security Council keeps constantly in touch with it.

With obvious reference to Nixon, Eisenhower said nobody is barred from bringing up in the council any anxieties he may feel or any convictions he may have on security matters. Nixon is, by law, a member of the Security Council.

The President's Sunday evening talk will begin at 6:15 p.m. EST.

SCS District Is Off to Good 1960 Start

Farmers in Hempstead County Soil Conservation District are starting the year with what looks like might be a record breaker in Soil and Water Conservation work.

Dr. Royston has completed a Diversion Terrace to divert hill water from bottom land. E. E. Drew of Columbus has a diversion staked, waiting for the land to dry to start construction. Earl C. Thompson has completed a stock water pond.

Several farmers are preparing to sprig sod Coastal Bermuda Grass. Earnest Ridgill is preparing to sod 60 acres, Congressman Oren Harris six acres, Noel Warren two acres, Mr. Dillard of Saratoga has soded several acres Corn Belt Hatches six acres, L. Dennis six acres.

Costal Bermuda will produce three times as much forage as common Bermuda Grass. Floyd Fuller is cutting his pine timber selectively. Lester Wade of Blewins has completed 20 acres of tim-land improvement. A. H. Wade is cutting 40 acres of pine timber selectively.

Now is the time to start making plans to spray pastures for weed control. The SCD has a spray machine for rent on a first come, first served basis. If interested call or see George Brown, Work Unit Conservationist and get your name on the list for the date you want to use the machine.

This spraying should be started about April 15, depending on the warm weather.

A sprig sod machine and a tree injector is for rent. Rental fee is small on this equipment. The supervisors want to collect enough rent to replace this machine when it is worn out.

Washington, Prescott in Semifinals

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Forty Arkansas cities are priming today for semifinal judging in the 1960 Community Accomplishment contest.

Preliminary winners — 10 in each of four population categories — were named yesterday after contest officials winnowed 91 entries.

The annual contest is aimed at stimulating community development. The next step is for judges to visit each of the communities listed as preliminary winners. Five finalists in each group will be named for judging and award winners will be announced here on March 4.

The preliminary winners:

Cities of less than 1,000 population: Allheimer, Calico Rock, Decatur, Delight, Mammoth Springs, Perryville, Plumerville, Rison, Salem and Washington.

Cities of 1,000 to 3,000 population: Arkansas City, Berryville, Booneville, Carlisle, DeWitt, Dumas, Gurdon, Huntsville, Murfreesboro and Ozark.

Cities of 3,000 to 6,000 population: Bentonville, Brinkley, Clarksburg, Nashville, Morrilton, McGee, Prescott, Siloam Springs, Wynne and Paris.

Cities of 6,000 to 20,000 population: Camden, Forrest City, Fayetteville, Jonesboro, Magnolia, Paragould, Russellville, Stuttgart, Van Buren and Warren.

Claims Plane Hit

TOKYO (AP) — The Red Chinese claimed today to have damaged one Nationalist Chinese plane in the air battle over the Formosa Strait Tuesday. The Nationalists announced from Formosa earlier that they had probably knocked out one Red Chinese MIG in the battle between four Nationalist planes and 10 Communist aircraft. They said their four planes had returned safely.

Clarksville Vote Okays Bond Issue

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Clarksville voters Monday approved a $30,000 bond issue to pay for blacktopping a runway at the municipal airport.

The federal government will pay an additional $30,000 on the project.

Airport Commission Chairman John Cline said two airlines whose planes fly over Clarksville have promised stops if the runway is blacktopped.

Electrical Firms Are Indicted

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Twelve electrical equipment manufacturers including the country's two largest, General Electric Co. and Westinghouse Electric Corp., were indicted by a federal grand jury today on antitrust charges of price-fixing.

Tuesday the grand jury indicted five companies—General Electric and Westinghouse among them—for conspiring to fix prices and rig bids in the sale of heavy electrical equipment.

Four indictments were returned today by the 20-member grand jury. The indictments involved the sale and distribution of bushings, distribution of lightning arrestors, station lightning arrestors, asbestos cutouts combination units, insulators, and open fuse cutouts.

These products, amounting to over 55 million dollars in annual sales in the country, are used in the generation, transmission and distribution of electricity throughout the United States.

Indicted today were: General Electric of New York; Westinghouse of Pittsburgh; Lapp Insulator Co. Inc., Lefroy, N. Y.; Ohio Brass Co., Mansfield, Ohio; McGraw-Edison Co., Elgin, Ill.; H.K. Porter Co. Inc., Pittsburgh; Hubbard Co., Chicago; Joslyn Manufacturing & Supply Co., Chicago; The Porcelain Insulator Corp., Lima, N. Y.; L-T-E Circuit Breaker Co., Philadelphia; A. B. Chance Co., Centuria, Mo.; and Southern States Equipment Corp., Hampton, Ga.

Measuring of Fields Should Be Done Now

Any farmer who wishes to have his fields measured officially in advance of spring planting to assure compliance with acreage allotments should apply as soon as possible to his County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office, Chairman H. B. Gilbert, announced today.

Under the premeasurement program, special trained ASC performance reporters measure the fields. The premeasured acreages will be accepted as official provided the fields are planted as premeasured. A later trip to the farm will be made to determine that these requirements have been met, but in most cases an additional survey will not be necessary.

The purpose of premeasurement, Mr. Gilbert said, is to help the farmer guard against either overplanting or underplanting his crop allotment. Overplanting, through inaccurate measurement by the farmer or through incorrect information about the size of permanent fields can often cause unnecessary expense for fertilizer, seed and soil treatment. Underplanting can cause loss of farm income.

Requests for premeasurements should reach the county office no later than March 13, 1960 he said. At the time of application the farmer will be asked to deposit sufficient funds to cover the cost of the work.

'Brotherhood' Is Kiwanis Subject

"Jesus is the answer to every problem and every perplexity of mankind." The Rev. George Petry of the Nazarene Church, told the Hope Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon he spoke on a program entitled "Brotherhood in Christ."

Because of the many temptations we encounter and the constant contamination of everyday life, we need to lift our ideals and patterns of life to conform to that of the perfect Savior, Rev. Petry declared.

He appeared on a program arranged by A. A. Albrighton. Guests of the club were Talbot Field Jr. of Hope and Sgt. Brice Kilbreath of Texarkana.

Ike Will Tell Nation About Defense, Tour

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will go on nationwide television and radio Sunday evening to discuss national defense and his forthcoming South American tour.

The President announced this at a news conference today.

And—in cold anger—Eisenhower called it despicable for anyone to suggest that he may have misled the nation regarding its defense position.

Eisenhower said that if anybody believes that he has misled the nation on defense matters, he would like to deny it to that person's face.

Eisenhower asserted that America's defense is not only strong but also awesome and respected elsewhere.

Police Dept. Warned by Garland Jury

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Mayor Dan Wolf has been instructed by a Garland County Grand Jury committee to "take steps to see that the police department is operated in the manner prescribed by law."

Wolf got the instructions yesterday in a letter signed by Trice Ellis, chairman of the grand jury law enforcement committee.

Jury Foreman Joe McRae declined to elaborate on intent of the letter, which noted that the Civil Service Commission had control over hiring and promotions of police officers but no authority over conduct of the department.

There was no indication of the committee's motive in writing the letter. The grand jury recently indicted former Tax Collector Ray Owen and several others in connection with a probe of the collector's office.

Owen was indicted on embezzlement charges and on two other counts. Yesterday he paid $11,616 into the county treasury.

His attorney, State Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst, said this was the amount the jury accused Owen of embezzling and that his client insisted on depositing the money in the treasury pending outcome of charges against him.

L. May Is in Race for Tax Assessor

The Star has been authorized to announce the candidacy of Lawrence May for the office of Hempstead County Tax Assessor. In making his announcement, Mr. May issued the following statement:

To The People of Hempstead County

Today I wish to submit myself to you as a candidate for the office of Hempstead County Tax Assessor.

My friends have not insisted that I make the race, but their expression of faith in me gives me the confidence to seek this, my first public office.

In the past few years more attention has been focused on our real and personal property as a tax source for operating our County Government and the proper financing of our Public Schools.

This can be obtained without undue hardship on any one if all of the taxable property in Hempstead County could be placed upon the tax books equally and at a fair value. This increases the responsibilities of the assessor. You need and deserve a man of experience in property values and one who will administer this office in a fair and impartial manner.

I am a native of Hempstead County, having devoted the last 15 years in the building and construction business and understand property values.

I feel that I am in a position to render fair and impartial service to all the people of Hempstead County.

I earnestly solicit your vote and support and will endeavor to see you personally during my campaign.

Oral Polio Vaccine Is Under Study

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The nation's pioneer mass attempt to check polio through oral vaccine is on here under the interested eye of the vaccine's originator.

Dr. Harold Cox, who developed the cherry-flavored potion to supplant inoculations, praised the program's public opening in the Greater Miami area.

"Although one million people have taken the vaccine already," he said, "saving the life of one American will make more of an impression than saving the lives of a million Russians. That is why we think the Dale County program is so important." A similar type vaccine is being used in the Soviet Union.

Cox flew here from New York for the start Monday of Greater Miami's oral vaccine program. About 7,000 persons drank the vaccine dose—two cubic centimeters of a pink fluid—at several civic centers and clinics. Health officials hope to swell the number to half a million to provide a basis for studying the vaccine's effectiveness next fall.

Court Affirms a Death Sentence

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court has affirmed a death sentence imposed against a Crittenden County Negro for the fatal shooting of a school custodian.

The court yesterday unanimously refused to interfere in the case of Lawrence Gene Monroe 19, condemned for the death of Ross Nichols near West Memphis, on Sept. 20, 1958.

The state said Nichols was shot when he investigated a burglary. It will be up to Gov. Orval E. Faubus to set a date for Moore's execution.

Snow Flurries Hit Central Arkansas

Flurries of snow descended on portions of central Arkansas shortly before noon today.

The weather bureau had no reports of snow in the rest of the state at the time. But the forecast called for snow flurries in the north portion this afternoon and tonight.

Rain or snow was predicted for south Arkansas tonight and early tomorrow.

At Little Rock, snowflakes melted as fast as they hit the ground in the mid-day flurries.

Flurries today are expected to range from the upper 30s in northwest Arkansas to the low 50s in the south. Tonight's lows are due to range from the 20s to 30s throughout the state and more cold weather is in prospect for tomorrow.

Minimum reading in Arkansas today was 21 at Gilbert. Other low varied from 25 at Flippin to 37 at Texarkana.

Sub Eludes Capture

Navy sources reported Tuesday the sub had not been detected in the southern Argentine gulf since Sunday.

Favors Rail Plea

PARSONS, Kan. (AP) — Business and industry patronizing the Frisco testified in favor of the railroad's proposal to abandon its passenger train service between Fort Scott, Kan., and Tulsa.

More than 30 witnesses for the railroad were heard at the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing Tuesday. Testimony was resumed today.

They said they favor the abandonment because deficits incurred by the passenger service are made up by freight rate increases they have to pay.

Opposition witnesses will testify later. They consist largely of representatives for the railroad employees facing layoffs.

Stalemate Is Broken; Formal Action Thurs.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Rules Committee agreed informally today to clear a stalemate civil rights bill for House consideration.

Formal action sending the measure to the House floor probably will be taken Thursday. The decision to act was made at a hurriedly called session this morning.

The House probably will consider the bill next month.

Meanwhile, a Democratic plan for securing Negro voting rights was placed before the Senate Rules Committee but consideration was deferred.

Chairman Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.), author of the measure, sent word he was unable to be present because of illness. He requested that action be put off.

The Hennings bill, made public for the first time, is modeled in large part on the Eisenhower administration's proposal for court-appointed referees to prevent racial discrimination in voting.

However, instead of court-appointed referees, it provides for federal enrollment officers appointed by the President to oversee registration, voting and vote counting in federal, state and local elections.

Voters whose qualifications were challenged after being put on the rolls by federal officials would be permitted to vote and have their votes counted.

But ballots cast by challenged voters would be impounded and could be thrown out later if the challenges were upheld in a federal court.

An explanation given out by one of Hennings' aides said this procedure was designed to overcome judicial delays that might arise under the administration's referee plan.

Farm Bureau Enrolls 491 in First Week

Volunteer workers have reported that 491 farm families enrolled in Hempstead County Farm Bureau during the first week of its 1960 membership drive.

The figure compares with the county farm organization's goal of 601 members for the year.

Farm Bureau leaders kicked off the drive Feb. 8 and reported on Feb. 15. Plans are for completion of the bulk of the membership effort Feb. 29.

Clifford Russell, membership chairman, commented that early results are encouraging and the goal likely will be reached in a short time.

Last year, there were 664 farm families on the rolls.

Throughout Arkansas and the nation county units are conducting similar drives. Activities are directed at obtaining members in Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation.

Sees Larger Fees for Tax Collectors

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A spokesman for the state comptroller's office said today that tax assessment increases could mean bigger fees for some county collectors.

Assessments are up as a result of the state's long-term equalization program.

Larger assessments mean bigger tax returns even though the millage rate remains unchanged.

In approximately two-thirds of Arkansas' 75 counties, tax collectors still are on a fee basis.

That means they retain a percentage of tax money as their commission for making the collections.

The commissions are on a sliding scale and vary according to the type of taxes and the total collected.

Aubrey McCasland, head of the county audit division of the comptroller's office, noted that no matter how much tax money a collector takes in he can't pay himself more than $5,000 a year in salary.

That's the limit fixed by the state Constitution.

But, said McCasland, a collector could increase deputies' salaries or hire additional deputies.

The constitutional salary limit also is in effect for deputies, of course.

Tax collectors in most of the state's larger counties are not on a fee basis any more.

Their own compensation, the number and pay of deputies and allotments for other expenses, are fixed by acts of the Legislature or by locally initiated salary acts.

McCasland pointed out, however, that Mississippi, the state's second most populous county, still is on a fee basis.

William Berryman, Mississippi County's veteran sheriff and collector, consistently turns back big surpluses to the county general fund, McCasland said.

Many counties now have a separate tax collector, but Mississippi County is one of those in which the same official is both sheriff and collector.

Nixon's Policy

He expects to talk for about 15 minutes. Major radio and television networks will carry the speech.

Eisenhower announced his plans for the talk after a reporter recalled that just before the President's December tour to 11 nations he went on nationwide TV radio to discuss the trip.

The newsmen asked whether the President planned another talk before he leaves next Monday for South America—and if so, was there any possibility the talk would deal as well with national defense. A controversy has been boiling in and out of Congress over the administration's defense policies.

Eisenhower replied that he did intend to go on the air for 15 minutes Sunday evening.

He said that in addition to discussing his forthcoming visits to Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Uruguay, that the talk would deal with national security and defense.

In the course of the news conference, the President also discussed these matters:

NUCLEAR—He said the Soviet Union's latest program looking toward suspension of nuclear weapons tests seems to get away from the completely rigid position the Soviets have maintained previously. The Soviet proposal certainly is going to be studied by this country, the President went on.

However, Eisenhower hit at one aspect of the new Soviet plan—that calling for a limited number of inspections to determine whether any nuclear power was cheating.

When you get into the business of limiting inspections, Eisenhower said, you at the same time get into a long argument because you get into the old numbers racket.

NIXON—In more than seven years of working closely with Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Eisenhower said, never once has Nixon been at any major variance with him regarding administration policy.

A reporter had told Eisenhower that some people feel that he and Nixon seem to have a somewhat different philosophy on some matters and a different approach to handling problems.

New Fashion, Maybe

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russian say they've developed something new for the fashion world—a white variety of the glossy, tightly curled lamb's fur known as karakul. It needs no bleaching before dyeing. Tass, the Soviet news agency, said the first consignment would be put on sale at the international fur auction in Leningrad this summer.

Lauderdale Sentenced for Bombings

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—E. A. Lauderdale Sr. today was sentenced to prison as the chief plotter in the integration-fueled Labor Day bombings here last year.

Circuit Judge William J. Kirby ordered that the segregationist leader be taken to the state penitentiary to serve a three-year term and that he pay a $500 fine.

This was a necessary legal formality. The punishment was fixed by the jury which convicted Lauderdale last November.

Kirby permitted Lauderdale to remain free under a previously furnished bond of $50,000 pending an appeal to the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Co-defendants of Lauderdale testified at his trial that he was the man who planned, and furnished the dynamite for, the nighttime bombings last Sept. 7.

There were three targets: the Little Rock School Board office building, the business office of Mayor Werner C. Knoop and the city-owned automobile of P. I. Chief Gann Nalley.

Damage was extensive, but no one was injured.

Faubus Has Horse Racing Pass Trouble

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today that demands for passes to the Oaklawn Park horse racing track are so bothersome he is ready to abolish the passes entirely or make them more plentiful.

Oaklawn's annual 31-day racing meet opens at Hot Springs Saturday.

State Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney estimated that his office and the governor's office had received more than 25,000 requests for passes. The two offices got a total of only 11,000 passes for distribution.

Faubus told his news conference he would favor legislation requiring anyone visiting the track to pay $1. Half of this could go to the track and half to the state, he suggested.

"Or," he said, "I would agree to anything that would make the passes available to just about everyone who wants them. Anything to

Estimated cost of the new project is four million dollars. The commission previously had listed seven minor projects for the March 2 letting.

The expressway project begins at the foot of the Freeway Bridge now under construction, and runs north through North Little Rock take the heat off my office." There has been controversy before over distribution of passes by state officials.

The late Sen. Artie Gregory of North Little Rock once introduced unsuccessful legislation to throw the gates of the track open to all. However, track officials contended passes and paid-admissions allowed some control over the gates.

Total attendance at last year's Oaklawn meeting was 318,566 of this number 131,529 paid for admission and the rest entered on passes.

Arkansans Get Alabama Sentences

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Two Arkansas youths were sentenced to three-year prison terms yesterday on their guilty pleas to second degree burglary charges.

Carlos S. Richardson, 22, and Dewey H. Davis, 19, both of Blytheville, admitted the Jan. 28 entry of a store at nearby Chunchula. They were sentenced by Circuit Judge Robert T. Ervin Jr.

A similar count against Clarence F. Lowery, also of Blytheville is still pending.

The store owner, W. H. Pierce testified he saw the youths leaving the store early in the morning and fired several shots, one of which flattened a tire on their car.

Prosecutor Carl M. Booth said Davis was under a three-year suspended sentence for an Arkansas burglary. He said all three are wanted on burglary charges in Butler, Ala., and in Blytheville.

Has First Edition

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—Cornell University's library now has a first edition of the 18th century novel "Joseph Andrews," the gift of three juniors in memory of a dead classmate. Their roommate Carolyn J. Rieger, was struck and killed by a hit-and-run motorist as she crossed a New York City street Dec. 28. The novel, by Henry Fielding was published in two volumes in 1726. Miss Rieger had studied it as part of her courses at Cornell.

Miss Barbara Ann Maxwell Weds. Jerry Estes

On Tuesday night, January 26, Miss Barbara Ann Maxwell, daughter of Mrs. W. N. Stark and the late Vestal Maxwell, and Jerry Estes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Estes of Lewisville, were united in marriage. The double-ring ceremony was performed in the home of the bridegroom's parents.

The bride wore an ice blue suit with a fur collar. Her accessories were black, and she pinned a corsage of white carnations at her shoulder. Mrs. Milton Estes was the bride's only attendant, and Donald Wayne Helms of Lewisville served the bridegroom as best man.

Pretty garden flowers enhanced the home where a small reception was held following the wedding. A white cake decorated with pink rosebuds and fruit punch were served.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Estes are now making their home at Route 1, Lewisville.

Amanda Thinkle Circle Meets

The Amanda Thinkle Circle of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Frank Horton on Monday afternoon with 10 members present, and one new member, Mrs. J. E. Shuffield. The mission study was directed by Mrs. Cora Bamelett. After the business, directed by the chairman, Mrs. Smalley, the hostess served delicious refreshments.

No Shotgun Wedding For This Girl

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I've met a boy who means the world to me. One of the first things he told me was that he was engaged. I became pregnant but decided not to tell him. He knew and also knew he was responsible. He asked me to marry him. I told him. No, he had that girl back home — it would ruin too many lives. We talked about his going to Germany. He left a few days ago and I've just about gone crazy. I intend keeping the baby. I'm hoping he'll come back to be the baby's father. He intends to help me support the baby. Do you think I've gone about this whole mess the wrong way? Should I have married him? — K. E.

Dear K. E.: You were right to make the boy wait until he really knows his own mind. Don't lose heart. From what you say I'm sure he loves you and will come flying back with a wedding ring.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

When I was engaged, my step-mother said that she would sign the marriage license for us, and when my boy friend and I got our blood test taken and got ready for the wedding, she said that she would not sign the license. She told him not to come back to the house again. But he calls me up now and then. I am living with my girl friend. I baby-sit for her. What should I do — go home or stay away? I will be 18 years old tomorrow. — M. L.

Dear M. L.: Since little love is lost between you and your step-mother, why not remain with your girl friend? Whatever you do even if it's only baby-sitting, do it to the best of your ability. Improve your time. Read good books. Listen to good music. Above all, be sincere. If you do all this, you'll visit his parents this weekend.

Sp. Charles E. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Thompson, and family, will stop by their parents home this week on their way to Ft. Ord, California.

Carole Ends 2-Day Ordeal as Witness

By DALE TORGENSEN

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Carole Tregoff ended her two-day ordeal in a cross-examination "erect and composed," unshaken in her denial that she and her surgeon lover murdered his wife.

She told off being in love—she didn't echo the prosecutor's suggestion of "madly"—with Dr. R. Bernard Finch. The state says they murdered his wife, Barbara Jean, last July 18.

Carole told of fleeing and hiding in bushes when Finch and his wife struggled over a gun he says went off accidentally.

"I was frozen, was scared, I was completely horrified. It was like a nightmare."

Finch studied her as she testified. Sometimes his hands folded his lips moving silently, the hand some society doctor stared at the ceiling.

After her testimony Tuesday the defense all but officially rested its case. The doctor's attorney asked permission to call other witnesses. "If I think of any."

Because two of the state's rebuttal witnesses haven't arrived from out of town, the case was continued until 9:30 a.m. Thursday. It is expected to go to the jury early next week.

Prosecutors say Carole, 28, a shapely ex-model, and the wealthy 42-year-old surgeon killed his wife at the Finch estate in suburban West Covina so they could marry without sharing his estate with her in a divorce settlement. For 2 1/2 years Carole had been the doctor's mistress.

Miss Tregoff spoke softly. On cross-examination Monday she broke into tears. Tuesday she didn't cry.

Unsmiling Deputy Dist. Atty. Clifford Crail hammered at her.

In harsh-voiced, child-like accusations, about the struggle in which Finch testified his 30-year-old wife was shot accidentally in the back. When it was all over, Carole resumed her seat at the witness table, her brow still furrowed with anxiety. Relief on the doctor's face also was apparent.

Porkers Breeze Past Tech in SWC Contest

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks insure an improved basketball season with a 76-55 breeze past Texas Tech in last night.

The triumph gave Arkansas a 10-8 record for the year. The Hogs went 9-15 last season.

Arkansas also set its Southwest Conference mark at 5-4 and stay in the league's first division.

Substitute John Blassengame pumped in 17 points, eight of them in the last two minutes, to steal scoring honors from Porker regulars. Clyde Rhoden got 16, Pat Foster 14 and Jerry Carlton 10 for Arkansas.

Tech's point leader was Dell R. Mottus, the court whiz who spared Tech to a victory over Arkansas at Lubbock earlier in the season.

Arkansas led all the way after breaking a 5-5 tie. It was 35-25 at the half and Tech never got closer than 10 points after intermission.

Tech's overall record now is 6-13 and the league slate reads 3-0.

NLR Clears Big Hurdle in Title Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Little Rock cleared another big hurdle in its race to the Big Nine Conference basketball championship last night, leaping Little Rock Central 37-32 on the wildcat floor.

The Cats' 19th straight victory ran their season's record to 20-1 and their Big Nine mark to 13-0. Blytheville, idle last night, is second at 10-2.

Fort Smith held third place last night by toping Hot Springs 39-34 at Hot Springs. The Grizzlies are 9-3. Central is fourth at 7-5.

North Little Rock scored four straight free throws at the end to pull away from a Central club which put the Wildcats in the shadow of defeat for the first time since early season. The score 33-32 with 1:16 left when North Little Rock finally got moving.

Central's Claude Pullon was high scorer with 12 points.

Jim Migness hit 20 points for Hot Springs in the losing effort against Ft. Smith. Chester Henry led the Grizzlies with 11.

Blytheville visits Little Rock Hall in a single league game tomorrow night.

Teachers Get Lift From Bitter Rival

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

State Teachers backed into the Arkansas Intercollegiate leader's role in a basketball tilt last night, thanks to bitter rival Arkansas Tech.

The Techmen humbled Ouachita 63-53 at Russellville to drop the Baptists out of a tie with Teachers for the lead. Teachers, meanwhile, was losing a 76-63 contest to Delta State at Cleveland, Miss.

Tech gained second place from its victory over Ouachita which dropped all the way to third behind Teachers (11-3) and Tech (12-4). Ouachita is 11-4.

A&M won its eighth straight AIC engagement 79-55 over Henderson at Monticello and Arkansas College tripped Harding 65-76 at Batesville in other conference games. Hendrix nipped John Brown 68-65 in double overtime at Siloam Springs and Southern State lost a 76-75 thriller to East Texas Baptist at Lewisville and Ozarks tripped over Evangel College at Clarksville 73-59 in other non-league encounters.

Next AIC action is tomorrow night when Southern State visits Henderson and Ouachita is host to Louisiana College in a non-conference affair.

Robinson Is Cinch for High Scorer

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—With only two weeks of the basketball season remaining, State Teachers' John Robinson appears a cinch to take individual scoring honors in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference.

The veteran Bruin has 410 points in 13 games for an average of 31.5. His nearest rival is Southern State's Frank Dolan who has 353 points in 11 contests for a 22.2 average.

Roundup of the top five are Arkansas College's Birdy Rogers 191, A&M's Harold Mobley 179 and Tech's Don Nichols 174.

Arkansas College's Don Sisko is sixth with 167. Tech's J. P. Love, Lady and starlings Leon McQueen are tied for seventh with 152. Over below Hendrix' Ernie Martin 149 and A&M's Butch Frazier 140.

Scoring points were released today by AIC Commissioner Cliff Shaw.

Says Baskets Cheap in the Pro Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Have baskets become cheaper in the National Basketball Assn.?

Veteran Bill Sharman of the world champion Boston Celtics thinks.

"A basket has become so cheap nowadays that the fans having nothing left to cheer about," Sharman said. "It must get boring to sit and watch two teams pour that ball through the basket all right. There's really nothing for the fan to get excited about until the final two minutes of a close game. But if the teams scored only 50 or 60 points a game, then a basket would mean something again."

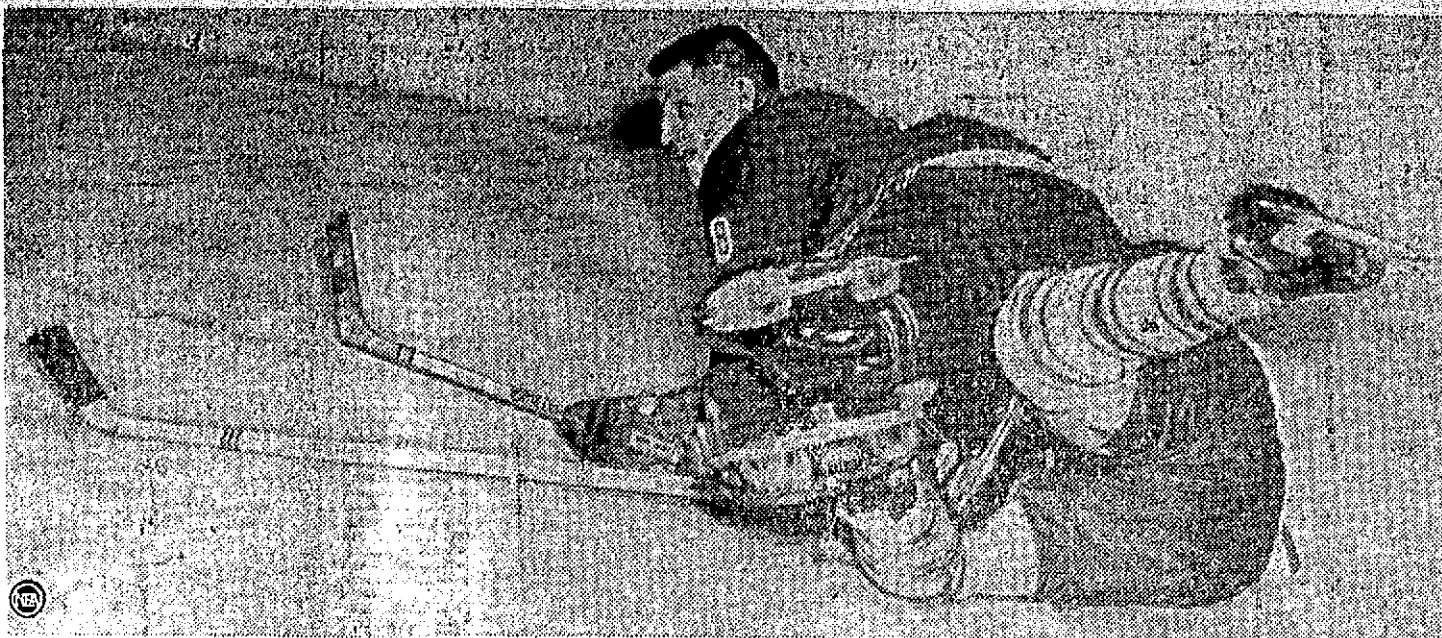

Sharman topped Boston scorer with 26 points Tuesday night as the Celtics moved a step closer to their fourth straight Eastern Division title by beating Minneapolis 130-122 in the first game of a doubleheader in New York. New York beat Syracuse in the nightcap 125-116.

The Philadelphia Warriors, powered by Walt Chamberlain's 44 points, edged Cincinnati 117-112 and St. Louis won over Detroit 111-104 in other NBA action.

Perennials May Be on Sideline at Tourneys

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Wait a minute there, Charlie, before you start thinking how strange it'll be to see the likes of Kentucky, Connecticut, Southern Methodist and those other perennials on the sidelines when they hold the National Collegiate basketball tournament next month.

Just like that they're back in the running after a night of basketball flip-flops among conference leaders that'll make Feb. 16 stand for Black Tuesday to many.

Georgia Tech, sailing along toward its first Southeastern Conference championship in 22 years suddenly is in a three-way tie-up dogfight with Kentucky and Auburn after losing to Tennessee in a 57-56 upset at Knoxville Tuesday night.

Connecticut, supposedly out of the Yankee Conference race, is right back in there with a 6-2 record after knocking off leader Massachusetts 71-49.

Texas A&M, racing along after the Southwest Conference, is down to a three-team tie for first with old power SMU and Texas after losing to Texas 79-62 while SMU was smacking Rice 75-35.

Just to make it complete, Eastern Kentucky—the season long leader in the Ohio Valley Conference—was smacked down to third behind co-leaders Tennessee Tech and Western Kentucky after forfeiting its game to Western Trailing 40-20 Eastern Coach Paul McBrayer pulled his club off the court and refused to return after a squabble triggered by a foul called on Eastern's Ralph Richardson. The score at the time went into the books as the final.

St. Mary's, the Western Collegiate Athletic Conference leader, escaped the gun of shockers—whipping College of the Pacific 79-55 to build a 6-4 WCAC record, and a game lead over Santa Clara and Pepperdine, both 5-2.

While the conference clubs were having their squabbles, four of the eight teams already signed and sealed for the National Invitation Tournament were having a ball.

Holy Cross, which joined the NIT field Tuesday along with defending champ St. John's, reeled off its 11th straight for a 16-2 record, nailing Boston U. 83-76. Detroit 17-41 got 28 points and 24 rebounds from ace soph Dave Debuschere in a 94-61 walk over Baldwin Wallace. Providence (15-1) thumped Rhode Island 72-60 as Jimmy Hadnot had 23 points and 16 rebounds. Memphis State (14-4) whipped Loyola of New Orleans 54-38.

The original Olympic Games were held in Greece. There Olympia made the first known record of such athletics in 776 B. C.

Nationalist China, India Still on Sidelines as 8th Winter Olympic Games Near

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—The dissension-plagued eighth Winter Olympic Games will open Thursday with Nationalist China and India still on the sidelines.

The International Ski Federation, which controls all ski competition, referred back to the International Olympic Committee the question of allowing Taiwan's lone skier, Cheng Hung Loo, to compete. There seemed little chance he would be let in.

The federation also turned thumbs down on another one-man national team, Jerry Brjakowski, the Polish-born citizen of India, but it gave him the honor of going down on the slalom and giant slalom course first.

With India and China out, there are 31 nations here represented by 850 athletes. Weather conditions looked perfect for the 20 Czechoslovakia and Canada top seeded in each group.

IN POP'S SHOES—Archie San Romani, Jr., runs the mile daily on the University of Wichita campus where he is a freshman. Archie, Sr. (inset) was one of the top milers of the Glen Cunningham era and just like pop. Junior is running against the best milers during the current indoor season.

Officials for State Meets Are Assigned

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Athletic Assn., yesterday announced officials for eight high school and junior high school basketball tournaments scheduled Feb. 24-March 12.

Class AA—AAA at Blytheville March 1-5; Bill Baker of Wynne; Gene Hunkley of Little Rock and John Bearden, Leachville.

Class B senior boys at Truman March 1-5; Bill Baker of Wynne; Gene Hunkley of Little Rock and John Bearden, Leachville.

Class B junior boys at Marmaduke, Feb. 25-26. Prior Evans and Henry Stewart, both of Batesville.

Class A junior boys at Marianna Feb. 24-27; Phil Ford of Forrest City, and W. C. Grizzle of Brinkley.

Class B senior girls at Manila Feb. 24-27; Ray Lackey of Little Rock and Marvin Lindsey of Magnolia.

Class B junior girls at Greenbrier, Feb. 24-27; Earl Kitts and Bill Valentine, both of Little Rock.

The larger boat needs even more winter attention. Stored ashore, it should receive inspection of cradle and cover. Make certain that the hull is still shored up properly so that it receives extended support rather than in one or two places, and that none of the cheeks have slipped during the winter.

Proat in the ground will cause shifting and heaving that will move around hull braces that were originally in place.

Later this spring you can be sure that the hull will be properly supported. The International Hockey Federation submitted to a 10-day the question of allowing Taiwan's lone skier, Cheng Hung Loo, to compete. There seemed little chance he would be let in.

However, no one likes the dirt pile up and freeze in the hold of a boat. Especially true with wood boats, no ventilation can do more harm than a little moisture. Dry rot is promoted by moist air, so covers must provide both protection and access for fresh breeze.

Even periodic checks can also determine if small rodents have chosen to hibernate aboard.

Climb aboard, pull back the cover and check it for leaks, sniff for mildew, inspect plumbing lines.

Texas Defeats A&M for Tie in Conference

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Red hot Texas, making a giant leap out of the street, swarmed Texas A&M 79-62 last night and tied the Southwest Conference basketball race into a triple knot.

With five games to go Texas A&M and Southern Methodist are tied for the lead and there's only a hazy idea of which will emerge with the championship—if anybody does.

Southern Methodist whipped Rice 75-58 to create the three-way deadlock.

Texas is the sensation. The Longhorns, who last year had a 2-12 conference and 4-20 season record and were buried deep in the cellar, have been poison to the favorites. They beat Southern Methodist both at home and abroad, they slammed an Aggie team that had beaten them 72-61 before and they now have the most favorable closing schedule.

Texas had little trouble with the Aggies.

Carroll Broussard was the only Aggie who could make a showing against Texas scoring 24 points.

Cellar-dwelling Rice had Southern Methodist running scared for a time, but the Methodists finally found the range in the second half and pulled away.

David Craig, the Rice ace, led the scoring with 28 points.

Baylor plays Texas Christian at Fort Worth Wednesday night and can tie Arkansas for fourth-by winning.

Hank Gets Nod Over Rodriguez

CHICAGO (AP)—Three weeks after dazzling Chicago Stadium boxing fans with his knockout progress, Henry Hank tonight returns to the same scene to try out his chilling effect against Sixte (Kid) Rodriguez.

The 22-year-old Puerto Rican now California state light-heavyweight champion from Mountain View and ranked No. 4 by the National Boxing Assn., is a 2-1 underdog for the televised (EPC 10 p.m. EST) 10-round.

Hank, a 24-year-old former Detroit zoo keeper, again will have to spot poundage as he campaigns in the heavier bracket. He jumped a notch to the No. 3 rung among middleweight contenders after knocking out Jesse Bowdry in six rounds in a stadium TV performance Jan. 27. He gave up seven pounds to the St. Louis slugger in that one.

Tonight's fight will be scored under the five-point must system.

All-Star Coaching Aides Are Named

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Harry Denson of Crossett, head coach for the West All Stars, today picked the five aides who will help him prepare his squad for the High School All Star game Aug. 13.

Denson named Boyce Hensley of Bearden, Lonnie Qualls, Clarksville, Olan Burns of Cabot and Rip Powell of Texarkana as his assistants. Cecil Bruchfield, Crossett will serve as trainer.

The East head coach, Mickey O'Quinn of Warren, named Fletcher of Mulvorn, Doyle Wallace of Bald Knob and Bill Davidson of Earle as his aides.

The Arkansas High School Coaches Assn. sponsors the football-basketball all star series here. The all star basketball game is scheduled the afternoon of Aug. 13 at Barton Coliseum. The football classic will be played that night in War Memorial Stadium.

Once more to be sure they are clear of water, look into the bilges and see if they are dry and clean. When leaving the boat, remove the ladder you used to climb aboard. This can help discourage youngsters from the somewhat dangerous game of playing on and around your boat.

The craft still afloat in wet storage needs regular inspections, too. Make sure all mooring lines are not chaffing and are long enough to allow for any water level changes that may come with spring storms. Even thin ice, when traveling with the current, can cut a hull. Do you have protection around your waterline?

And for the boatman cruising the sunny south, mid-winter checks need only mean examination of running lines, inspection of the bottom for tropical marine growth and refill of suntan lotion bottles for more enviable warm weather fun afloat.

Why should a girl look for a go getter when she can find one who's already got it?

Woman Tells of Chiding Accused Man

By TOM MORGAN

BOSTON (AP)—A woman witness at the murder trial of William Van Rie told an all-male jury today she had chided him for his attentions to a pretty passenger. When she told him he should remember his wife and look at her picture, the witness allegedly said: "What could I do with a picture, eat it?"

The occasion, testified Mrs. Josephine Brown, comely wife of an army sergeant, was at a birthday party aboard the freighter Utrecht Sept. 17 at Halifax, N. S., the night before the ship reached Boston.

"Among those attending the party was Lynn Kauffman, whose body was found Sept. 19, ashore on a Boston Harbor island.

Van Rie is charged with beating her and throwing her into the harbor to drown as the Utrecht continued for New York on a globe-girdling voyage.

Mrs. Brown testified that after the party, Van Rie had lent Lynn an officer's jacket, saying to the girl she should get something else "because it gave me naughty thoughts."

Mrs. Brown is the wife of Sgt. Arden T. Brown, Army Signal Corps. She said she and her husband now reside in Sacramento

If You Want Your Boy to Do Time in the White House Have Him Join Armed Force

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.

If you want your boy to live in the White House later in life, it might be wise to have him serve a hitch in the Army, Navy or Marines. More than half the presidents served their country in uniform. President Eisenhower is the 19th.

One of the penalties of walking on your hind legs is varicose veins, which afflict about 10 per cent of all adults. If you went through life on all fours, this is one ailment you wouldn't have to worry about.

In 1959 alone Americans bought more new books, not including comic books, than existed in the entire history of the world before the 20th century.

Most trees will stop growing within four weeks if they are limited to eight hours of natural light daily.

Surgeons recently reported successfully using ear lobe tissue to repair nasal deformities in 17 patients.

Feminine logic: "Beauty is more important to a woman than brains," says actress Helen Dunbar, "because most men can see better than they can think."

There's an auto stolen in this country every 2 and 1-3 minutes.

The less you see while driving the more likely you are to have an accident, and when you drive at 50 miles an hour you see 14 per cent less than you do going 40.

Why is the potato sometimes known as a spud? It got this nickname from the initials of the "Society for the Prevention of Unwholesome Diet," which at one time held potatoes unfit as human food. The society never became popular in Ireland.

came too popular in Ireland. "Virtue has at least one reward," points out singer Jeanie Thomas. "You can usually find parking space near a church." Only about 39 per cent of U. S. adults attend church on an average Sunday.

It was Aesop who observed, "Better beans and bacon in peace than cakes and ale in fear."

Paris to Get Bridge

PARIS (AP)—Paris is to have a new bridge across the river Seine named "Pont (bridge) de la Communite" for the French African community. It will replace the Solferino bridge, which was shot in his home after a party commemorated an 1859 victory of the French over the Austrians.

Industrial School Probe Continues

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Pulaski County Grand Jury convened today with further work planned on its investigation of a tragic fire at the Arkansas Negro Boys Industrial School.

The jury hoped to wind up its investigation of the fire which killed 21 inmates of the institution March 5, 1958.

Foreman R. C. Davis said the only witness left was Alfred Smith of Paragould, chairman of the board that operates the school. Smith did not appear for questioning immediately.

Davis said the jury probably would not submit a report on its findings in the case until March 4, when the Declaration of Independence will be celebrated.

The grand jury also resumed an investigation of the fatal shooting of Arthur Howard Priest, 38, of Little Rock last Dec. 24. Priest was shot in his home after a party and his wife was charged with manslaughter.

The Lighter Side of Life in Washington

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—I have been over to the office of Rep. Thomas Pelly (R-Wash.) watching a pigeonholing demonstration.

It was all very educational and I came away feeling that I had learned more about pigeonholing than I had wanted to know.

The exhibition was staged by 11 vice-presidents of the National Federation of Post Office Clerks, which is trying to convince Congress that extra pay ought to be given for pigeonholing home work.

I never even knew that pigeonholers had to do home work. But the 11 vice-presidents soon set me straight.

40 Letters A Minute

Outside of designing stamps, pigeonholing is probably the highest art form in the postal service. It takes a mail clerk about three years to become a good pigeonholer. And it takes a lot of study for him to stay that way.

A clerk must learn by heart more than 4,000 combinations of mail routes and schedules in order to put letters in the proper pigeonholes. This is roughly equivalent to memorizing 100 pages of a telephone book.

Once he has mastered the system, the average clerk can pigeonhole about 40 letters a minute. The trouble is that mail routes and schedules are constantly changing. Each time that happens, the clerk has to break his old pigeonholing habit pattern and develop a new one.

"It's harder to unlearn the old than it is to learn the new," Charles M. Allmon of Memphis, Tenn., one of the 11 vice-presidents, told me. "It's like memorizing the pence and then changing the words around."

On Own Time

All this memory work has to be done on the clerk's own time. Most of them buy a miniature set of pigeonholes and training cards and practice at home.

Pelly, who is sponsoring a bill to compensate the clerks for their home work, said it is not uncommon for them to spend a week or more of their annual leave hating (for) pigeonholing experts.

"Contrary to what you might think from the number of letters that go astray, a pigeonholer must be at least 97 per cent accurate to hold his job."

I asked one vice-president if the Post Office might develop an automatic pigeonholer which would make so much human memory work unnecessary.

"Absolutely not," he said. "Nothing is going to substitute for the human brain."

Want Hearings on Power Rate Boosts

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Little Rock Electric Co-operative of Morrilton and the Highland Electric Co-operative of Stuttgart have asked the Arkansas Public Service Commission to hold public hearings on proposed rate increases on wholesale power by the Arkansas Power and Light Co.

They joined several other co-ops protesting the rate hike scheduled for April 8.

Khrushchev Takes Tour to Burma

By RENE GEORGE INAGAKI

RANGOON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrived in neutralist Burma today on the second stop of his four-nation Asian tour.

Top government officials headed by President U Win Maung and Premier Ne Win greeted the stocky Soviet leader as he descended from the giant Ilyushin turbo-prop airplane that brought him from India.

Maung welcomed Khrushchev "not as a stranger but as a friend who has come again for the purpose of strengthening the existing ties of friendship which you helped to forge during your first visit (in 1950)."

Khrushchev in reply expressed regret that his stay would be short but said he and the Burmese officials would discuss "some of the important problems of our time which deeply agitate the peoples of the Soviet Union and Burma."

"The most burning problem facing all nations and governments at present is the attainment of universal and stable peace," he added.

About 1,000 persons were at the airport to greet Khrushchev, and only small groups were along the route from the airport to the Presidential Palace, where the Soviet leader had lunch with Maung.

Following a 36-hour stay Khrushchev moves on to Indonesia, then Afghanistan.

The Premier's departure from Calcutta ended a five-day Indian visit that many observers felt did not measure up to expectations. A columnist for one of Calcutta's most influential newspapers, Amrita Bazar Patrika, noted the public turnout for Khrushchev was far less than the wildly cheering crowds which greeted President Eisenhower last December.

The major Khrushchev theme the last two days of his visit was that Western economic aid is designed to hold India in "imperialist, economic slavery."

Khrushchev insisted the Soviet Union renders aid only to build industries.

Larceny Suspect Escapes Hospital

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—A grand larceny suspect disappeared from a Jonesboro hospital last night, five days after he was taken there for an emergency appendectomy.

Craighead County Sheriff Lonnie Cooper said Oliver Conley 21 of Lake City, walked out of St. Bernard's Hospital in his robe and slippers and apparently stole a car owned by James Adkinson, of Leachville. Conley has not been located.

Conley was arrested two weeks ago in connection with the theft of tires, wheels and auto parts in the Lake City area. He was held in Craighead County Jail prior to being moved to the hospital.

THE LADY AND THE GIANT

By Clarence Budington Kelland

CHAPER XXXIII

Oscar made no direct response but said, "You know how much money was in the safe."

"If I took money I would round it. Naturally."

"Her orders to me," Oscar said "were to offer what she called a reward for the return of lost property."

"A sort of sop to my conscience?"

"Two hundred thousand," said Oscar.

I shook my head.

"Madam," he said, "is also very fond of Miss Lottie Fox."

I stood up suddenly, kicking my chair back so that it crashed to the floor, and stepped from behind my desk. There I stopped because Oscar had snatched a heavy-bladed knife from his overcoat pocket and was balancing it on his hand.

"My voice was so oddly soft that I did not recognize it as my own."

"Oscar, if you so much as lay a finger on Lottie, I'll kill you. You cannot go so fast or so far that I won't catch you and kill you with my hands."

He swung his gaunt body toward the door, where he paused and spoke over his shoulder. "In one hour," he said gratingly, "you will have every dollar of that money at Madam's door. Or you will regret it to your dying day."

I put on my coat, hat and tip-top and ran down the stairs and across the street to the bank over which Mr. Watts presided. I entered and strode back to his office, and burst into the solemn privacy of his room.

"What does this intrusion mean, Orrin?" he demanded.

"It means," I said, "that you are a guileless, pompous ass." It was the truth, but even so, it was not proper for one of my age to speak so to a man of Mr. Watts' position and years.

"Get out of here, you impertinent puppy, before I have you thrown out neck and heels!"

"Before you do so," I said hotly. "Look at the collateral Madam Janeway had deposited with you as security for her borrowing. Look at it as you should have done when you made the loan, and see if your credulity has not wrecked this bank!"

In a matter of minutes the cashier put the papers upon Banker Watts' desk. The contents of the envelope spilled out upon his desk. He stared at what lay under his eyes and uttered choking sounds and collapsed on the floor. The contents of the envelope were not stocks and bonds, but folded heavy blank paper.

I left him to be revived by someone else and to cope with his problem. I had but one thing on my confused mind then, and that was Lottie Fox.

Mrs. Fox, wiping her hands on her apron, appeared from the kitchen and frowned at me. "Goodness gracious, Orrin! What's all the racket? Lottie isn't here. She went driving with Madam Janeway."

"I turned without a mannerly word and rushed from the house. As I stood on the sidewalk I was possessed by a confused necessity to do something, but my brain would not inform me what to do. And then I heard hoofbeats and rounding the corner came Madam Janeway's splendid carriage and team, with her coachman on his seat and Madam and Lottie under a rich fur robe, chatting as if neither of them had a care in the world."

I splashed across the street and up the steps. I let myself in and called loudly, "Lottie, I'm here! It's all right, Lottie!"

I strode into the back parlor where the ladies stood. They had not taken off their wraps. Lottie looked at me as if I had taken leave of my senses.

"Orrin Applegate!" she said. Madam Janeway smiled at me and then at Lottie. "Orrin thinks something is wrong," she said gently. And then, without change of expression or inflection, "Of course, Orrin is right. Something is quite, quite wrong."

"Oscar," I said tersely, "found the safe empty."

"Oh!" said Lottie faintly.

"Come along, Lottie," I said. "Let's get out of here."

Oscar's voice croaked behind me. "Nobody's going anywhere," he said, and advanced into the room. In his left hand — his big, splay-fingered left hand — he gripped a cluster of those throwing knives we had seen him practicing with in the barn. One of them was ready in his right hand.

"We've nothing to lose now, Orrin," Madam said. "We really must have that money, at any cost. It's terrible, Orrin, but it is necessary."

"As those two other murders were necessary!" I said. "The Duke, and was it — was it your brother?"

"It — it was heart-breaking," she said.

"Shut up!" snarled Oscar. She did not heed him. "But they were blackmailers!"

"The pot," said I, "calls the kettle black."

Oscar advanced a step into the room. "Your last chance!" he snarled. "Where is that money?"

Lottie had backed against the beautifully paneled wall. Her head was high and she was not afraid. "Don't tell them," she said sharply.

Oscar's arm snapped back and flicked forward. The knife glinted through the air and buried its point in the oak an inch from Lottie's shoulder.

"The next one," Oscar said viciously, "will carve a piece of meat."

I faced Oscar. "If you so much as scratch her skin," I said evenly, "I'll kill you the way it hurts most."

"You," he retorted, "will be too dead to hurt a fly. For the last time, where is that money?"

Home Finance Has New Director

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Housing and Home Finance Agency announced Monday the appointment of John A. Foster of Denver as its regional director with headquarters at Fort Worth. Foster, real estate broker and appraiser, will head a region comprising Texas, Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, New Mexico and Oklahoma. He succeeds Waldemar H. Sindt, who will become the HHFA's deputy planning coordinator in the west.

Incomes in South Climb at Fast Rate

ATLANTA (AP)—Individual incomes in the South are going up faster than the national average, the managing editor of Business Week magazine said yesterday.

Kenneth Kramer said figures compiled by the New York magazine for the 10-year period ending in 1959 showed per capita income in the South up 98 per cent while the national average increased 85 per cent.

Kramer and five other business week editors agreed business will have its biggest year ever in 1960 after snapping out of the "mid-winter blues."

"The editors generally were optimistic about the economic state of the United States and enthusiastic about the growth of the South."

Kramer also reported a 66 per cent increase in manufacturing in the South for the 10-year period compared to 55 per cent of the nation.

He said the figures indicated the South was catching up with the nation percentage wise, but there was still a considerable gap in actual figures.

The managing editor predicted the 1960 per capita income for the nation at $2,250 and the South at $1,580.

Estimated per capita income increases for 1960 in the South included: Georgia 6.5 percent, Florida 11.5, Alabama 6.7, Mississippi 4.1, Arkansas 4.2, Kentucky 4.0 and Louisiana 5.0.

Interior Secy. to Visit Rogers

ROGERS, Ark. (AP)—A reception with Secretary of the Interior Fred Seaton as one of the guests is planned here for Sunday, March 6.

The event will precede the formal transfer of 4,400 acres of the Pea Ridge Civil War battlefield at Pea Ridge to the federal government on March 7.

The battlefield is to become a national military park.

Others at the reception are to include Gen. U. S. Grant, chairman of the Civil War Centennial Commission; Col. Carl Bell, executive director of the commission; Conrad Wirth, head of the National Park Service; Gov. Orval E. Faubus, and Neill Bohlinger of Little Rock, president of the state.

Pea Ridge Park Commission. A meeting of the state Centennial Commission will follow the reception.

At the March 7 transfer, Faubus will turn a deed to the battlefield tract over to the National Park Service.

AF Wants to Know Ike's Full Authority

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force wants Congress to spell out clearly the President's authority to order a continuous airborne alert of big bombers in an emergency.

Sens. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.) and Dennis Chavez (D-NM) said Monday the language of last year's defense budget permitted the President to spend up to 600 million dollars next year and up to a billion for each of the next two years if necessary.

Secretary of the Air Force Dudley C. Sharp agreed the present law seems to have that effect, but said Congress should make this perfectly clear even if it has to write it into the law.

Sharp and Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, were testifying before the Senate Appropriations Committee.

They conceded that only 90 million dollars is provided in the current defense budget to prepare for an airborne alert. Gen. Thomas S. Power, head of the Strategic Air Command, contends such an alert would guard against all bombers being destroyed on the ground by any sneak missile attack.

White and Sharp pointed out, however, that the bill also provides that the President may spend whatever is necessary to set up an airborne alert and come back to Congress for more money later.

Coors, 44, is the chairman of the Adolph Coors Co., a brewery and ceramics products plant here. He vanished last Tuesday morning while driving to work from his foothills home. His vehicle with two blood smears on the front seat, was found abandoned on a narrow wooden bridge.

Swastikas on Church

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Police believe the painting of swastikas on the doors of four Protestant churches here over the weekend was the work of a prankster.

The Nazi emblems were painted in yellow on the doors of the University Baptist Church, the Immanuel Baptist Church, North Street Church of Christ and the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Millionaire Now Missing a Week

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP)—Millionaire Adolph Coors III disappeared one week ago today.

Sheriff Art Wermuth and the FBI gave the familiar comment today that they still are investigating the mysterious case. Publicly, at least, there have been no contacts by possible kidnappers.
